Interactive Voice Response (IVR)

IVR is a technology that automates interactions with telephone callers. Enterprises are increasingly turning to IVR to reduce the cost of common sales, service, collections, inquiry and support calls to and from their company. IVR Technology lets you serve your customers fast, with reliability and consistency, any time they want – day, night, weekends and holidays.

SMS notification

Now a days with a near omnipresent of the mobile phones, it forms a very important, indeed essential means for the people to connect and communicate with their personal and professional network.

Tabletop ordering

Our goal is to make things friendly and easy to our customers to place orders and pay their bill at the end of the meal. Tabletop device for the casual dining market that enables guests to order food and drinks on demand.

Table management

MHPOS Table Management is simple, easy-to-use software that integrates customer preferences, seating capacity, and available staff, while effortlessly managing the customer's dining experience. Table management alarms also help servers and floor managers respond to guests who wait too long for service during their dining experience.

Kitchen Display System

MHungry Kitchen Display helps your kitchen staff to prepare food as per KOT. Instead of print kitchen copy, you can just create KOT which will automatically come at Kitchen Display System.

Surcharge

Until Now, Visa Mastercard mandated that you could not charge a fee to accept credit cards.
A recent class action lawsuit had changed that rule, and now you can offset your costs by passing it directly to the customer.
With Universal ATM's SurchargeNow Program, merchants will be able to charge a customer a fee when paying by credit card with a fully compliant system.
